1. DEFINTIONS

Petty cash refers to small amounts of cash kept on hand in a business. (The term "petty" comes from "petite or "small.") There are reasons to keep petty cash:

- To pay for small purchases which require cash, such as food for the office lunch or coffee supplies, or for parking? ETC

Every purchase using petty cash must be documented in the same way as other business income and expenses. Using a petty cash log or petty cash slips will help capture these expenses so they can be used to offset income for business tax purposes.

PETTY CASH CUSTODIAN: The employee in a department who has been authorized to make payments from a petty cash fund and who is directly responsible for the administration of the fund.

POLICY

A petty cash fund may be established in a department to improve the efficiency of departmental operations. These funds are available to purchase minor items when it would be otherwise impractical to purchase items through the usual purchasing methods.

These funds are subject to periodic audits. Recurring audit findings may result in the petty cash fund being revoked.

The custodian is responsible for ensuring the cash on hand and receipts equal the authorized amount of the fund at all times. Petty cash funds must be kept separate from change funds, cash drawers, personal funds, and any other collected revenue.

A petty cash float is not to be used for any of the following

- The cashing of Cheques;
- Loans to any person whatsoever
- Payment of personal remuneration to any person whatsoever, whether for fees, salaries wages, travel allowances as part of remuneration or honorarium, or other reasons unless authorized by the chief financial officer
- Any purchases violating the true meaning of petty cash transactions
- Petty cash from the same suppliers for more than 500 from the same department will be regarded as deviations from supply chain regulations and shall constitute a serious offence under the disciplinary code, unless authorized by the chief financial office
- The Accounting officer or delegated official may conduct internal audits to evaluate compliance with this policy

SECURITY OF PETTY CASH FLOATS AND DOCUMENTATION

- The petty cash on hand and used petty cash vouchers are to be kept in a locked box for which there should be two keys. one key to be retained by the petty cash officer normally the person responsible for petty cash and the other by the senior employee in a sealed envelope in the office safe or other secure place, to be used only in emergency
- The locked petty cash box must be kept in a secure place when not in use and should be removed and returned by the responsible staff member only.
- If the responsible petty cash officer is either going on leave or leaving the municipality 's employment, the petty cash float is to be reconciled and signed by the departing –as well as the replacement staff members to indicate their agreement as to its balance
